MARSHFIELD.

Mr. Jacob Atwood is having his house newly painted by out-of-town painters.

Mr. S. G. Capen has closed his house at the shore, after a successful season, and gone to So. Abington.

The trial of Henry Abington is awaiting the decision of the Supreme Court as to whether the dike is a nuisance.

Mr. Allen Blanchard may be found in the Boston Clothing Store, Rockland, whose advertisement is given elsewhere, and where he would be pleased to see all his friends.

The annual meeting of the Marshfield Agricultural and Horticultural Society will be held, Monday, Nov.
17, at one o'clock, to hear reports, to choose officers, and to see if the society will sell or move its old hall.

GREEN HARBOR.

Mr. Henry Tolman has brought in fine furs of fish.

The weather has been so unfavorable that the gunners had poor luck.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather on Thursday evening, the doctors foretold of winter old Boreas favored us with a pleasant company met at Grace Chapel to partake of the bean supper with its varied palatable accompaniments. Marshfield housewives are noted for excellence in the culinary department and those in this vicinity are not a whit behind in this respect. The exercises consisted of singing, declamation, select reading and impromptu speaking, and every one agreed that it was an extraordinary occasion, thus quite a sum was realized for the benefit of the Sewing Circle which has again started under auspicious beginnings. The next meeting is with Mrs. Oscar Weston at the Winslow House.

OBITUARY.

In the death of our friend and neighbor, Mrs. Sarah E. Hatch, the community meets with a great loss, a fond mother and a devoted friend.
Oh, vainly look we for another in her place to stand! As she was, fair, full and conscientious and skillful, she had few equals, and she was ever found ready to respond to the calls of sickness and distress. One of her prominent characteristics was to excel in whatever she undertook.

Her sick room was a cheerful one, made so by patience, by loving appreciation of friends, by resignation, by trust and faith in her Heavenly Father and her Saviour and the joys of the unseen things of the hereafter, and by the free admission of God's beautiful sunshine and pure air. "Thus art gone home beloved, though not far away to shed. Never again to fold the robe of secret pain. Never weighed down by memory's clouds again, to bow thy head. Now the long yearnings of thy heart are stilled.
Home! Home! Thy place is won, thy heart is filled. Thy place is home!"

SEA VIEW.

Mr. Daniel M. Little started on his retire to California last Monday morning.

Mr. Geo. Parker is fitting up his retire to a store and is going to stock it with a line of groceries and provisions.

Mr. Charles Rogers and Mr. Marcellus W. Hatch with a large gang are at work on the roads in this neighborhood. They are both experienced road builders and will undoubtedly do good service.

The grounds about Hotel Hamarock are to be laid down in grass and otherwise beautified, and many improvements in the hotel are contain-planned.

EAST MARSHFIELD.

Mr. Geo. Carver has had his house painted.

Mrs. John Treubey gave birth to a boy last week.

Mr. Albert Bates is putting up a stable on his place.

Mr. Wales Allen Rogers is building a large barn on his premises.

Mr. Austin Hatch's little child is ill with the whooping cough.

Mr. Gardner Prescott of Quincy visited Mr. Clift Rogers last week.

Capt. Chas. Magoun is very ill he has been confined to his house some two months.

Mr. Fred Hatch with his family moved from East Marshfield to Nepotucket. We are sorry to lose these war-thy people.

Mr. Benj. Lewis with his family moved last Monday from East Marshfield to Rockland, where he is engaged in a shoe factory. All his household effects were moved also.

The "Old Mechanics Fair" has closed.
About 15,000 attended the exhibition during its continuance. L. S.
Richards returned home last Saturday, and also James L. Rogers.

Mr. Eliza W. Hall has been confined to his house some three or four weeks with pneumonia. We are glad to learn that he is recovering.

Mr. Judson Ewell is building a very substantial blacksmith shop on the corner of Chas. Rogers' estate.
It is as handsome a blacksmith shop as we have seen on the South Shore.

Mrs. Daniel Brown was surprised last week by a party of friends who assembled at her house to honor her seventeenth birthday. We wish we could have been at home to join the party as a good time can always be counted upon at the house of Mr. and Mrs. Brown. May both live to enjoy a score or two more years of a well spent and useful life.

In the Probate Court, before Judge Keith, Monday, a hearing was given in the contested administration case of James Fred Heustis, late of Marshfield, Edward O. Cooke of Scituate petitioned the court for appointment as administrator of the estate of Heustis, and appeared by himself and Jos.
H. Bennett of Boston. E. H. Peirce of Boston and John F. Simmons of Haverhill appeared for contesting creditors. The ground for opposing the appointment of Mr. Cooke was that he was not a proper person. After a protracted hearing the court appointed the petitioner administrator. An appeal was taken to the Supreme Court.

PENBROKE.

GOLDEN WEDDING.

The Golden Wedding of Jonathan O. and Eliza A. Mann was celebrated at Penbrooke on the 4th inst. The groom is a lineal descendant of Richard Mann who was a youth in Elder Brewster's family, came to Plymouth in the Mayflower, in 1620, was one of the first settlers, and was a partner in 1646 and whose farm was at the place known as Mann Hill. The bride was Eliza A. Sears of East Dennis, a name numerous, honored and respected all over the Cape.
This fiftieth anniversary was highly largely attended by relatives and friends. Among these may be mentioned Paul Sears, Esq., and wife, of Dorchester, also Josiah Salisbury, Esq., and wife, of Weymouth. Mr.
Sears with Mrs. Crocker and Mrs.
Mann were present also at the marriage, Mr. S. as groomsmen. Five sisters of the groom, (all living in Penbrooke) and three sisters of the bride were present. The children are George H. Mann and Mrs. Gorham
Howard of Penbrooke and Mrs. Eben Rhodes of Brockton. There is but one grandchild, Miss Edith Mann, a young lady of about ten years, who from the rich and richly ornamented cake made by herself, that she was happy to offer to the guests, most be-champion cook for her age.

The presents were quite numerous and acceptable. The ladies of the sewing circle connected with the First Parish in Penbrooke (of which the bride has been a member since its formation, about thirty-five years) presented a beautiful bible. At the presentation Mrs. C. H. Ford read the following verses composed by herself:

TUESDAY, NOV. 4, 1884.
Just fifty years ago today,
With joy and love and gladness,
Our friends stepped forth from childhood
To marry and be joined together.

And now in love and peace have run
In life's sweet path,
And have shown how true the love
That binds them together.

The faithful wife and mother,
The loved and honored friend,
With ever ready hand and heart
Will willing do his bidding.

All our love and wishes for your life, Long may you live in peace,
Our happy wishes for you,
With your gentle smiling face.

At the dinner (which was an elaborate feast indeed) Miss M. A. Olden of Penbrooke, read some lines composed by Miss Jessie Crocker, of Brockton, a niece of Mrs. Mann, and Dr. Chase of Brockton, (whose wife is another niece) read some poetry composed by his wife's mother, Mrs.
Wm. H. Faxon of Brockton, as follows:

Just fifty years ago today,
On the rugged shore of Cape Cod Bay,
When sweet love dawned first on your eyes,
And happy life was linked with joy.

A fair haired youth and maiden young Were standing, waiting close together,
In the dewy dawn, by the sandy shore,
Where were gathered loving friends of theirs,
And happy life was linked with joy.

And now in love and peace have run
In life's sweet path,
And have shown how true the love
That binds them together.

And now in love and peace have run
In life's sweet path,
And have shown how true the love
That binds them together.

And now in love and peace have run
In life's sweet path,
And have shown how true the love
That binds them together.

In life's sweet path,
And have shown how true the love
That binds them together.

And now in love and peace have run
In life's sweet path,
And have shown how true the love
That binds them together.

And now in love and peace have run
In life's sweet path,
And have shown how true the love
That binds them together.

And now in love and peace have run
In life's sweet path,
And have shown how true the love
That binds them together.

And now in love and peace have run
In life's sweet path,
And have shown how true the love
That binds them together.

And now in love and peace have run
In life's sweet path,
And have shown how true the love
That binds them together.

And now in love and peace have run
In life's sweet path,
And have shown how true the love
That binds them together.
